Rod Johnstone Group

“In any location or economy it is important to provide an exceptional service to your customers”.

Trying to organise builders and trades from a significant distance is not easy to accomplish. However, from the time that met with the Rod Johnstone Group to obtain costing and quote for a scope of works, it was clear that the staff were enthusiastic to help us achieve what wanted. They understood our needs, worked within our budget and delivered excellence on the project.

The Rod Johnstone Group have very talented staff, foreman and contractors, their attention to customer-service is second to none. The Rod Johnstone Group took the time to listen to our needs, problem solved to find options for us, made alternative suggestions and ensured that the budget was still intact – what more can you ask for!

The works were completed on time, regular updates, including photos, were provided to ensure that distance did not hamper our ability to have confidence that the project was on time and of quality.

The integrity, professionalism and trust given to undertaking our works was outstanding. All the staff including Rod, Joe, Leith and all the trades involved was outstanding and we would recommend the Rod Johnstone Group and would not hesitate to utilise their services again.

Kind Regards,
